What makes Spectra's Reduced Advanced Force (RF) Radiofrequency Needles Superior?

Spectra Medical Devices, LLC's RF needles are superior as a result of our state-of-the-art manufacturing technology. We produce one of the widest ranges of RF needles in the industry with over 100 configurations available. We use the highest tensile strength 304 stainless steel to create customizable needle gauges, lengths, and other needle options (lubricated, echogenic, curved/straight, sharp/blunt). Spectra's radiofrequency needles can be used with various probes and generators.

Scan our QR code to see why clinicians prefer our double heat-sealed Spectra RF needles for smoother insertion, increased ease of advancement, and minimized patient trauma.
